

Call for Submissions:

Communities, Places, Ecologies: Selected proceedings of the 2013 IASPM-ANZ Conference

Editors: Jadey O'Regan and Toby Wren

Presenters at the 2013 IASPM-ANZ Conference are cordially invited to consider submitting written versions of their conference papers for inclusion in the peer-reviewed conference proceedings. All submissions will be subject to double-blind peer review and editorial oversight, and the volume will be scheduled for publication in time for the next IASPM-ANZ conference in 2014. Please see below for submission requirements.

Eligibility: Any paper presented at the 2013 conference is eligible for consideration for inclusion in the proceedings. ECRs and graduate researchers are particularly encouraged to submit their work. Inclusion in the proceedings will be determined according to the advice of reviewers.

Content: The written paper should reflect what was presented verbally at the conference, elaborated as text but not significantly altered. This is to preserve an accurate portrayal of the conference itself. Papers that present too much new or extraneous information are unlikely to be accepted.

Word limit: Papers should be between 2500 and 4000 words, excluding references. Photographs, tables, figures and illustrations are limited to two per paper.

Format: Please submit your paper as a Word doc/docx file using default Word 2010/2011 formatting as follows:

Title 1: for the main title and author name (beneath main title)

Title 2: for subtitles

Title 3: for any secondary subtitles

Body text: double-spaced

Images: should be 300dpi, inserted into the body text in the appropriate place (Editors reserve the right to edit and/or remove images that create any formatting or printing issues)

References: should be in-text author-date references following APA style

Please avoid adding any further custom formatting (such as header or footer content, custom spacing, etc.), but do include page numbers in the footer, aligned right

Deadline: 14 February 2014
